CSS Appearance ■ - wd

Global

0% + 90.35% = 90.35%

unprefixed:

0% + 2.07% = 2.07%

The appearance property defines how elements (particularly form controls) appear by default. By setting the value to none the default appearance can be entirely redefined using other CSS properties.

¹ The appearance property is supported with the none value, but not auto. Webkit, Blink, and Gecko browsers also support additional vendor specific values.

² Microsoft Edge and IE Mobile support this property with the -webkit- prefix, rather than -ms- for interop reasons.
